General Events	OPEN
Garden	Alexis Shaw

We are interested in new ideas for events or activities that you might have and would like volunteers to help organize these efforts. For example, thanks to another volunteer, this year we have added Christmas caroling to our list of (hopefully soon to be annual) activities!

New Neighbors Committee

We're planning a New Neighbors party in March and would like to see the committee swing into full gear at the start of the year. Any volunteers for this committee should come to the annual meeting ready to go!

At the end of the meeting I would like to have the committee meet for 5 minutes to schedule a planning meeting.

Public Safety Committee.

We really need someone to spearhead this effort! Some issues include such things as Brandeis Student Parking, CedarWood Yard Sale Traffic, Snow Removal, and Speed Limits. This position is open immediately, so please feel free to contact me before the annual meeting.

Volunteers for any committee are welcome to sign-up at the annual meeting or contact me if you are unable to attend. -- SANDY KIESLING to give a gift from the heart

Home Shopping

Know someone who can't get out and shop, such as an elderly person, someone caring for an elderly parent, or a friend with a new baby? Gather your mail order catalogs for an evening of making lists, picking out presents, and dialing holiday hotlines.

Helping Times

Donate your time--or the whole family's-- to a soup kitchen, to a school cleanup project or to winterize" an elderly neighbor's yard and garden. For children, make it a special time not only to help others but to praise the youngsters for their cooperation and hard work.

Coffee Break

Invite a friend's visiting in-laws over for cup of coffee. Use the time to praise your friend's parenting skills, professional prowess, financial wizardry, and fine friendship. Your friend will appreciate the break and the pump-up as well, and if your lucky they may return the favor!

Alone Time

Trade "gifts" with a friend: You'll pick up they're children from school one day and feed them a snack so your friend can have two hours to themselves if they'll do the same for you.
